

PROFILE: FEODOR LYNEN RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP (HUMBOLDT FOUNDATION)

1. SUMMARY

The Feodor Lynen Research Fellowship supports German researchers from all disciplines in their research projects abroad.

The research projects of postdocs and experienced researchers at foreign research institutions are supported with monthly grants, personal supervision and alumni programs.

2. REQUIREMENTS

General requirements are German citizenship or, in the case of non-German citizenship, a university degree and doctorate in Germany, academic activity in Germany at the time of application, as well as integration into the German academic system and the intention to return to the German academic system after the planned stay abroad. The applicant must not have spent more than six months in the selected host country in the 18 months prior to receipt of the application. Good knowledge of the language of the host country and at least a very good command of English are required.

Postdocs must have completed their doctorate or comparable academic degree no more than four years previously. In addition, you should have already published scientific papers in internationally peer-reviewed journals and publishers. It is also possible to submit applications if the doctorate is to be completed in a maximum of six months.

The completion of the doctorate or a comparable academic degree by experienced researchers should not date back more than twelve years. In addition, the person should have an extensive list of scientific publications.
